Tree House

Mountainview, California

A city with one of the most consistently moderate climates in the United States, Mountainview, California has become a top destination for young, prosperous families in the San Francisco Bay Area. Great weather means more time spent outside, which is why the Parks Department chose the Tree House. A neighborhood gathering place for stay-at-home moms, dads and kids. The two-level PlayShaper® structure features a secret "club house" underneath the deck, complete with tables and chairs. Priced at approximately $19,000.

Minimum area required: 38' x 31' (11.58 m x 9.45 m) ASTM
 Maximum fall height: 48" (1.22 m)
 Idea Structure #2409

We make it easier

No matter what your community or school requirement, your Landscape Structures representative will ensure your playground is safe and fun for everyone. He or she is highly knowledgeable and up-to-date on current ADA standards to help you create a playground that meets all of your accessibility needs.
