Houston's Curbside Recycling Program is provided bi-weekly to many Houston neighborhoods.

Materials collected include aluminum and tin cans, #1 and #2 plastic containers, corrugated cardboard, mail, envelopes home and office paper, telephone books, newspapers, magazines and used motor oil.

The City also provides recycling opportunities to all Houstonians through recycling drop-off sites throughout Houston. The most popular recycling drop-off site is the Westpark Consumer Recycling Center, 5900 Westpark, which accepts batteries, used oil, paint, anti-freeze, computer parts, radios and other small electronic appliances.

If you don't have a green City of Houston recycling bin and/or for more recycling information/locations, please call 311 or log on to www.GoGreenHouston.org <<http://www.GoGreenHouston.org>>
